

Helpdesk

Helpdesk case study

Client: Major European Electronics Manufacturer

When a major Electronics giant wanted to provide a European Helpdesk facility for its speech recognition product and software installation, it chose Abtel for a six-month trial.

We supplied specialist operators to cover every European language and our relationship was so successful that the six-month trial was extended for a full five years!